

inno360 Announces Record-Breaking Q4 2016 Sales

inno360 Redesigned Cognitive Computing SaaS Platform Wows Fortune 500 Clients

Boston, MA (PRWEB) May 04, 2017 -- inno360, developer of an award-winning SaaS platform that enables R&D departments of Fortune 500 companies to streamline their R&D process and increase their product pipeline, announced record-breaking sales in Q4 2016. Adding eight new Fortune 500 clients to its client base of blue-chip companies, inno360 attributes its record-breaking success to client excitement about its redesigned platform, which will be released later this spring.

inno360 EVP of Sales Matthew Heim, noted that, “inno360 is proud to welcome our eight new industry-leading clients. Our redesigned platform will deliver an intuitive user experience, the power of cutting-edge cognitive computing and artificial intelligence, and the most comprehensive array of business relevant content. Signing eight new Fortune 500 clients in a period of six weeks validates the strength of the new platform.”

To develop its new platform, inno360 sought input from its existing Fortune 500 customers. “Seeking feedback from our clients and involving them in the re-design process,” remarked inno360 CIO Prakash Kanchinadam, “reflects our commitment to our clients and their experience. Our recent success leaves us even more confident that inno360 will revolutionize how businesses identify opportunities and solve problems.”
